*A total of 18 hours of social science hours are required covering at least 4 different disciplines. In order to prepare for this rule, it is best that you start spreading out your social sciences at the community college level instead of taking many classes in one area (i.e. psychology).

At least one of the sciences with lab must count for 4 hours.

Additional notes:

- You must have a total of 123 hours to graduate with a BA in Foreign Languages with over half of these hours completed at MSU.
- Keep in mind that splitting your language classes between two institutions can be challenging due to possible differences in material covered.
- If you have questions about majoring in a language other than Spanish, French or German or more specific questions about these language curricula, please contact the Department of Classical & Modern Languages and Literatures (662) 325-3480.
